

Protect your high risk property with a security system as unique as your own finger print

If label removed, mark still visible under UV light.

The Retainagroup system is a simple permanent marking and registration system, highly effective as a means of deterring theft and accurately identifying the ownership of lost or stolen property.

The system massively increases:

- The difficulty and risk for a thief attempting to re-sell stolen property.
- The ease with which anyone – Police, security services or the general public – can identify lost or stolen assets and return them to their rightful owner.
