Safety is paramount! ...whether in a work place or at home. In the event of a fire - every measure should have been taken to ensure that safety.

Automatic smoke curtains & fire curtains are designed to protect people, stock and valuables etc., by containing a fire and its smoke. They can easily be incorporated into new-builds, or retro-fitted to an existing structure.

The curtains are triggered through the fire alarm and also designed to operate if the power supply is interrupted, and have delayed action & split drop facility options.

Unlike standard steel fire shutters, fire curtains have a fail-safe option, and in comparison they: suffer less wear & tear, so less maintenance; have better conductive properties; are more attractive, blending into a building's structure; and are lighter and safer to use.

... Huge benefits that help create greater protection for your living and working environments - and give you peace of mind.
